D. J. SINCLAIR DEAD.

Killed in a Mine Explosion at Joplin, Mo., Yesterday.

A telegram received in Greensboro this morning brought the intelligence that Mr. D. J. Sinclair, of this city, was yesterday killed in a mine explosion at Joplin, Mo. Mr. Sinclair had lived in Greensboro for about a year during which time he had made many warm friends to whom the news of his death was as sad as it was surprising. Until two weeks ago he had been a member of the real estate firm of Jordan, Sinclair and McDonald. Upon severing his connection with this firm he left immediately for the Lake Superior region where he was interested in mines and mining. He was prospecting at Joplin for northern capitalists when he met his sudden death.

The telegram that announced his death stated that the remains would be interred at Duluth, Minn., where he had formerly lived and had served for two years as a city councilman. Mrs. Sinclair and two children, who survive him, will leave for Duluth as soon as possible. Mr. Sinclair was 40 years old and a man of many excellent qualities. He was a Mason and a Knight of Pythias and will be buried with Masonic honors.

STATE VS. DISPENSARY MEN.

The Case Settled Satisfactorily, Without a Regular Trial.

The case against the dispensary directors, charged with selling whiskey to a minor, was reached in court at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Hon. John N. Wilson, counsel for the defendants, stated that he believed that his clients could be convicted under the case of state vs. Kittelle and that the defense would submit a plea of guilty. There was no intentional guilt on the part of the dispensary directors, he said, for they had tried at all times to act in strict conformity to the law.

J. H. Stack, to whom the whiskey was sold, was put on the stand and said that he was a minor.

Solicitor Brooks stated that the defendants are men of standing in the church and community and that, as he believed there was no intention whatever of guilt, he would be willing to a suspension of judgment upon payment of costs. Judge Brown rendered a decision accordingly and the case was settled.

His honor did not agree with the counsel for defense concerning the similarity of the dispensary case and that of Kittelle. He said that under the Kittelle case the directors could not have been convicted, for in the one case the whiskey was sold to the minor in a private barroom and in the other the dispensary directors knew nothing of it. He said that Stack knew at the time that he was violating the law and his honor considered him more guilty than the defendants.

AN ALL NIGHT RAID.

Deputy Marshals Spend the Night in Randolph and Arrest Four Men.

Deputy Marshals J. M. Bailey, J. A. Logan and J. T. Millikan left here on the 6:35 train yesterday afternoon for Randolph county, in quest of four men charged with removing whiskey from a government store house in that county. The officers left the train at High Point and went by private conveyance to Thomasville. Here they separated and Deputy Marshal Logan with Deputy Collector Sheek and Deputy Sheriff Jim Taylor went in one direction, while Bailey and Millikan, accompanied by a scout, went in another.

Logan and his men went south from Thomasville and captured Addison Kennedy, whom they found in bed. He was taken to Lexington, where he gave bond for his appearance before a U. S. commissioner, after which the officers returned to Thomasville. In the meantime the other party was traveling in the opposite direction, stopping only at the homes of the men whom they wanted, to place them under arrest. One of them lived ten miles from Thomasville. All surrendered willingly, and as none of them gave bond they were brought to Greensboro. Their names are Reuben Royals, Andrew Royals and Albert Kennedy. All of the prisoners are past middle age, and are farmers who stand well in their community.

The store house from which they are accused of removing whiskey has been broken into three times and relieved of three wagon loads of whiskey.

None of the men who made the arrests got any sleep last night, and consequently are somewhat drowsy today. They are men who generally get what they go after, whether they get any sleep or not.

The prisoners were not placed in the jail here, but have been given the freedom of the marshal's office today.

You may think the bargains will wait for you, but you are liable to be mistaken. Better come soon. Fishplate-Katz Co.

FUN AT THE COURT MARTIAL

The "Expert" Testimony of M. Bertillon.

THE LONDON CORRESPONDENT

Gives Some Evidence Which Would Acquit Dreyfus Before Any Other than a French Court.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.
Rennes, August 25.—Dr. G. M. did not testify. Certificates from two doctors were presented stating that it would be impossible for him to appear. A laborer asked two well-known doctors might examine him. Jousaust refused.

Roland Strong, the Paris correspondent of the London Observer, testified that he paid twenty-five hundred dollars for Esthazy's confession.

M. Gobert, a hand-writing expert, swore that Esthazy, not Dreyfus, wrote the bordereaux.

"EXPERT" BERTILLON'S FAILURE.
Rennes, August 25.—Bertillon, an expert, took three hours trying to explain his system of infallibly determining that Dreyfus wrote the bordereaux, but failed to make it clear to anybody. He then undertook to make a copy after his rules. The result caused Jousaust to shrug his shoulders. Bertillon apologized for his failure and said he was badly placed.

Correspondent Strong swore that Esthazy confessed to him that he wrote the bordereaux.

BERTILLON'S "FIXINGS."
Rennes, August 25.—Bertillon's paraphernalia was very portentous. The audience roared as a sergeant and four soldiers staggered in with diagrams, maps, charts and such like.

SERIOUS RIOTING

Paris, August 25.—There was a riotous rioting between revisitors and anti-Dreyfusites last night on the Rue Lafayette, a suburb of St. Denis. Twelve were badly injured. There were many arrests.

MME LABORI UPSET.

AT MUIR'S CHAPEL.

The Camp Meeting in Progress and Much Interest Manifested.

The annual camp meeting at Muir's Chapel is in progress this week. The services are attended by large and attentive congregations; some good preaching is being done and results are apparent.

On Wednesday night Rev. W. F. Kennett, of the M. P. Church, preached to a crowded harbor. His sermon was most earnest, and strong in its simplicity. Five or six conversions were the result of that night's meeting.

Yesterday at 11 o'clock Rev. P. L. Groome preached. In the afternoon Rev. W. H. Perry, of Danbury circuit, delivered an earnest exhortation, and last night Rev. L. W. Crawford, of this city, preached. At all of these services the power of the Spirit was manifest. Up to this time there have been about a dozen conversions.

The pastor, Rev. T. H. Pegram, has had good help and the people are unusually attentive. At a meeting of this kind there is always much to detract and draw attention away from the service, but the pastor announced last night that this was the best meeting in that respect he had ever seen.

Man Wanted.

The following telegram was received by Chief Police Scott this afternoon from Durham: "Find J. W. Neathery and send him home. His wife is very low." (Signed) J. H. Meeks."

CRIME AND ITS RETRIBUTION

A Greensboro Colored Girl Murdered at Charlotte

BY COLORED EX-MADDOO WAITER

Julius Alexander Hanged Yesterday For Rape—Richard Caldwell Jailed for Same Crime.

This morning's Charlotte Observer contained the following:

In passing through a strip of woods near the Victor Mill yesterday, shortly after noon, Mr. Jim Scipple came upon the dead body of a negro woman. The woman's clothing had been torn into strips and the ground about was littered with fragments. Her face was bloody and her skull was crushed. Scipple is an operative at the Victor Mill, and immediately reported his find. The police were very soon at the scene. The body was identified as that of Janie Brown, a wronged colored girl who arrived here Wednesday last from Greensboro, and who had figured in a magistrate's court that afternoon. As soon as the body was identified, the work of running down the murderer was made easy, and almost before the news of the murder had become known, the man charged with the crime was in the city prison. His name is William Truesdale, and he is from Camden, S. C., though he came here from Greensboro, where he had been employed as a waiter in the McAdoo House.

Within an hour after her arrival in Charlotte, Wednesday, Janie Brown appeared at the office of D. G. Maxwell, justice of the peace, and asked for a warrant for the arrest of a negro named Wm. Truesdale, alias Truesday, on the charge of breach of promise to marry. The woman told of Truesdale having been arrested in Greensboro upon the same charge, and of his having been released after having made a compromise. She gave the name of the magistrate before whom the case was tried and mentioned other details. Truesdale, she said, instead of fulfilling the terms of his compromise, left Greensboro and came to Charlotte, where he secured employment as waiter in the Arlington Hotel. Constable H. C. Irwin went there with a warrant and arrested Truesdale. In the magistrate's court he pleaded for a suspension of judgment, and after an interview with the woman, a compromise was agreed upon. Then it developed that Truesdale had no money with which to pay the costs. His friends, however, made it all up but 25 cents, which Truesdale agreed to pay the next morning.

Truesdale then took the woman to the home of Emma Leeper, where he engaged board and lodging for her, according to the terms of the compromise. That night at 8:30 o'clock Truesdale called at the Leeper house and asked Janie Brown to take a walk with him. That was the last seen of the woman until her body was found in the woods.

When it became known that the dead woman was supposed to be from Greensboro, Messrs. H. C. Irwin, D. G. Maxwell and Will Robertson, who were familiar with the faces that figured in the trial of the previous day, went to the scene and identified the body as that of Janie Brown. Constable Irwin stopped at the Arlington on his way to the place where the body was found, to pick up Truesdale, for he had evidence enough to warrant the arrest of the party. Truesdale, however, was not there. About 11 o'clock yesterday morning he had called on Constable Irwin to pay the 25 cents, according to promise. He seemed excited, and said that Janie Brown had become scarce and had gone to Asheville. Truesdale pulled out two half dollar silver pieces when he went to make payment.

In the meantime, Policeman Kilgough and Cogbill had gone to the home of the Leeper woman and told her of the finding of the body, hinting of some evidence that might implicate her unless she told all that she knew. She told the officers that Truesdale had called for the woman the previous night at about 8 o'clock. That was what they wanted to know, and hurrying to the Arlington Hotel, they found Truesdale and took him to the station house.

The shirt that Truesdale had on was splashed with blood. He had tried to wash out the stains. There were spots of blood on his coat, also. Truesdale acknowledged having called at the Leeper woman's house Wednesday night for Janie Brown, but said that as he was promiscuous with her, some negro, whom he did not know, methinks he had walking with this woman. Rather than have a row, he said, he left her then and there, and said she walked off with the strange negro.

In one of Truesdale's pockets was found a purse which Constable Irwin identified as that which he had seen in the possession of Janie Brown, in the magistrate's court the previous day. In the dead woman's trunk were found several letters from Truesdale, as well as a photograph of Truesdale taken in the uniform of a United States volunteer.

Coroner Cathey, who was in the city yesterday, summoned a jury of inquest, consisting of C. C. Haynes, Jasper Walker, W. S. Stewart, J. A. Dunn and G. H. McGinn, and proceeded to hold an inquest. Dr. Strong's report on the character of the wounds inflicted upon the woman, showed that several deadly blows were dealt her over the eyes and one heavy blow had crushed in the left temple. The wounds were of such a nature as would be calculated to cause instant death. Emma Leeper and Sarah Ann Alexander identified Truesdale as the negro they had seen leave the house Wednesday night with Janie Brown. Constable Irwin gave his testimony, and the inquest was adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

The body of the murdered woman was taken to Syd Cole's undertaking establishment near the city hall, and crowds of excited colored people stood about all the afternoon. They manifested a great deal of feeling against Truesdale. In her testimony at the magistrate's court, Janie Brown said that Truesdale ran off from Greensboro with a woman, and that he has a wife in Camden, whose name is Annie.

JULIUS ALEXANDER HANGED

The Charlotte News of yesterday says:

Julius Alexander, convicted of rape committed on a young white lady, was hanged here today at 10:23 o'clock. He confessed his crime on the gallows, and sang an old time camp meeting song. He told the sheriff, chief of police and other officers goodbye individually, thanked them for their kindness and told them to do their duty. He said he was going to heaven. Twelve minutes after the drop fell life was extinct. He died from strangulation.

CRIMINAL ASSAULT.

The Observer this morning says:

A negro named Richard Caldwell was brought to the city yesterday and jailed on the charge of assaulting a young white girl named Bynum, who is employed in the family of Mr. W. C. Hastings, in Huntersville township. The assault was committed Wednesday afternoon, in a field near Mr. Hastings' house. The evidence is somewhat obscure, as the magistrate before whom Caldwell was arraigned, fixed his bond at $4,000, but the negro could not give it and was sent to jail.

That little girl wants a new pair of tan sandals, and Thacker & Brockmann will sell you a nice pair for her at cost or less. Why not make her happy? It won't cost you much.

BAD NEWS FROM MANILA.

The tale that comes from Manila is very unsatisfactory. Reliable information is given out that the Filipinos are not only not whipped but that they are in good condition and fine spirits for the opening of hostilities. One ship load of arms, it is learned on good authority, has reached them within this week. Of money, the leaders of the insurrection have no lack. They control the resources of a large and exceedingly rich country and even though no crops were harvested for several years they could still obtain enough cash and supplies by impressing to their use the treasures of the churches, the stores of the farmers and manufacturers and funds of private individuals—a system of levy which they have long followed. The ships coming and going into the ports recently opened to trade, pay heavy tributes to the insurgents.

The great and continuous rains that have suspended the operations of the American army, have been very serviceable to the Filipinos, and it is said that they are abundantly able to continue their struggle for even years to come.

If the same spirit that has characterized the American army in the past under Otis be continued in our operations against the insurgents, the end of the war is a long time off.

The automobile is a success and a failure. One Pennsylvania manufacturer has a contract for five hundred of them. When the Guilford county roads shall have been macadamized, Greensboro will give them an introduction in this part of the country.

TIRED OF FALSE FRIENDS.

Editor Russell, of the Blade, the negro organ published at Raleigh, is said to be a very intelligent man of his race. Speaking regarding the negroes and the constitutional amendment he yesterday told Colonel Fred Olds the following:

That the negro vote is divided; that some will not vote at all and that some will vote for the amendment, and say that they do not propose to any longer take part in state politics. Russell says he has been asked to print 25,000 leaflets containing the amendment, and that it is proposed to have night schools at which the negroes can study. He declares his belief that after last year's campaign and treatment by the white republican leaders of the negro vote the latter would have divided this year; that last year the negroes were told to go ahead and vote and that they would be protected; that Governor Russell and others so told them, but that when trouble came these leaders gave them no protection at all, and that they are disgusted. Editor Russell evidently believes that the adoption of the amendment will promote education and be a good thing for his race by taking it out of politics, which has been its curse.

The best element of the colored people of North Carolina are finding out fast that the white leaders of the republican party are the real enemies to their well being in North Carolina, and the logic of events is fast proving to them that the quicker they cut loose from these false friends the quicker will they be placed in a condition to do some permanent good for themselves.

According to present indications, the demon of war is soon to break loose in the Transvaal, the South African republic. The Boers, tired of the shadowy suzerainty and the very bold oppression of Great Britain, are collecting tremendous supplies of fighting material, and volunteers are flocking in great numbers to the country's standards. With their invincible power the English will, if the matter come to blows, beat the natives into submission, but many a red-coat will find a sleeping place on that far-distant strand before the rebellion shall have been crushed.

Irritating stings, bites, scratches, wounds and cuts soothed and healed by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve—a sure and safe application for tortured flesh. Beware of counterfeits. Howard Gardner.

CARD FROM CAPTAIN BOULDIN.

Anent His Retirement as Manager of the Dispensary.

Greensboro, N. C., August 25, 1899.
Editor Greensboro Telegram:—I respectfully request that you will permit me through the columns of your paper to make a statement giving my reasons for leaving the position recently held by me in connection with the Greensboro dispensary. I regret to have to appeal to you to publish this communication as I know that such matters as are herein discussed are of little public interest, and it seems almost an imposition to ask for so much space in your valuable columns. My justification, however, is that I feel that several members of the board of managers of the dispensary, in their street talk bearing upon the subject of my resignation, are doing me grave injustice and are guilty of gross misrepresentation as to the causes that influenced me to sever my connection with the board, giving as the sole cause that I desired an increase of pay which the board did not feel justified in allowing.

While I would not have worked permanently for the salary I was receiving and would not have gone into the work at all had I not expected to get what I asked, I desire to state that the cause that influenced me most in the action taken by me was the refusal of the board to hear me upon the question of increase of pay.

The chairman of the board, with whom exclusively I had always conferred as to all matters touching the conduct of the dispensary, although the contract was concluded with him, the other members of the board not being present, refused positively to call the board together and give me an opportunity to state my views as to the contract made between us; he claiming I had no right to ask an increase in salary.

I went at once to two other members of the board, Messrs. Brooks and Stafford, and stated that I had asked that the board be called together and had been refused that courtesy by the chairman and declared my intention of remaining no longer with them.

When Mr. McAllister, the chairman, refused me this courtesy I at once told him that I would leave the management immediately, but reconsidered the matter upon a suggestion made by him that it would embarrass the board if I should thus abruptly leave as the gala week was just about to open. I replied at once that I would remain if I had to work for nothing.

I did remain and made an honest effort to meet the requirements of the situation and so far as I know, have only as thanks for this work the comment I hear on the street that the board considered me incompetent to manage the affairs of the dispensary. Be this as it may, I feel that all true men and lovers of fair play and honesty can but regret that a board selected from the best should so far forget their duty to their fellowman as to decide against him in his absence and without a hearing.

It is true that the day before I left I was informed by the chairman that he board would meet that night, and he desired to know if I wished to attend, but he told me at the same time that they had already determined what they would do. I therefore declined the honor of appearing before them.

I wish to state here what I have stated to three members of the board in person that I considered their action in this matter as ungentlemanly and dishonorable, and I do not believe that they were actuated by high or generous motives in their dealings with me. The public, I know, care little for this matter, but I feel that street rumors should be noticed, and I also feel that recent developments in connection with the dispensary indicate that I am not far wrong in my conclusions as to the spirit that has influenced the board in their management of the affairs of the dispensary.

As to my connection with them I would most willingly submit the matter to the decision of a committee of three good business men of whatever political or religious faith, and let them make a thorough investigation of the whole business, and place all blame where it should justly fall.

The public may then know whether these high gentlemen who are offended at any public notice of the management of their dispensary have shown in their dealings with me and with them, any of that spirit taught by Him, of whom they profess to be humble followers, when He said, "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets."

Apologizing again for this imposition upon your courtesy and good nature, I am respectfully yours,
Briscoe E. Bouldin.

Mr. A. Saunders, writing from Coconut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there. He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. ### RAPIDLY GROWING.

The City National Bank's Business Has Nearly Doubled.

It is a pleasure to note the rapid growth of the City National Bank, formerly the Piedmont Bank, of this city.

It began business as a national bank on the 23rd of January last, and since that time, in only seven months, its business has nearly been doubled. This is remarkable, almost phenomenal, but still not very surprising, for it is officiated by as fine a set of business men as can be found in a search of a lifetime. The directors are men of the highest business integrity.

The City National is bound to continue to grow.
Greensboro is proud of it.

Is It Right for an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this remedy in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Frank Howell, aged 73, murdered his wife and committed suicide at Webb City, Mo., on Tuesday.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

The St. Paul (Minn.) Globe advocates the democratic nomination of Admiral Dewey for president.

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. C. E. Holton will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is every where admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and sellable.

The national council of the Daughters of Liberty, at Toledo, O., have raised the charter fee to $25.

"Our baby was sick for a month with severe cough and catarrhal fever. Although we tried many remedies she kept getting worse until we used One Minute Cough Cure—it relieved at once and cured her in a few days."—B. L. Nance, Prin. High School, Bluffdale, Texas. Howard Gardner.

On a lark—feathers.

All weak places in your system effectually closed against disease by DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cleanse the bowels, promptly cure chronic constipation, regulate the liver, and fill you with new life and vigor. Small, pleasant, sure; never gripe. Howard Gardner.

Benedict—"Back from the honeymoon, eh? Now you're acquainted with married life, how does it strike you?" "Newed—'Oh, like the rest of my acquaintances—for money."

Yellow Jaundice Cured

Suffering humanity should be supplied with every means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we publish the following: "This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from yellow jaundice for over six months, and was treated by some of the best physicians in our city and all to no avail. Dr. Bell, our druggist, recommended Electric Bitters; and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured. I now take great pleasure in recommending them to any person suffering from this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours, M. A. Hogarty, Lexington, Ky." Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by C. E. Holton.

It always puzzles a horse to find out what a woman's driving at.

Hamilton Clarke, of Chauncy, Ga., says he suffered with itching piles twenty years before trying DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, two boxes of which completely cured him. Beware of worthless and dangerous counterfeits. Howard Gardner.

"I will now express my views," remarked the amateur photographer as he picked up the bundle of plates and proceeded to the railroad station.

Baldness Can be Cured

Just so long as there is a particle of vitality left in the hair roots, the fact that the hair is smooth and shining is no positive proof that the roots beneath are dead. Deep down beneath the skin, hair roots may yet exist, filled with latent vitality, and all that is required to develop them into a beautiful head of hair is the faithful application of the proper agents.

Seven Sutherland Sisters' preparations furnish the easiest, surest and quickest way to ascertain if there is or is not latent life beneath a head bare of hair. Why not try them?

THE EAST CHILDLESSNESS IS CONSIDERED

a curse from the gods. It is a pathetic sight to see some childless Hindoo mother prostrate before an idol, imploring that the curse of childlessness may be taken away.

Are we much wiser than the heathen? Thousands of childless women are not as they suppose under Nature's ban, but are suffering from a diseased condition of the delicate feminine organs. It may be debilitated drains or female weakness, and perhaps an ulcerated and inflamed condition of the parts. In any case the diseased condition must be removed and a healthy condition established before the maternal function can be fulfilled.

Many a mother acknowledges her debt to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and to its inventor Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., who invites the sick to write and consult him without charge.

"Favorite Prescription" promptly allays irritation, checks the debilitated drains, cures female weakness and the accompanying bearing down pains. It gives vitality and elasticity to the organs, peculiarly feminine, and establishes the natural conditions which make for the easy birth of healthy children.

There is nothing just as good for you as "Favorite Prescription." Don't be put off with a substitute.

"I have never written you how grateful I am to your help in securing good health and one of the sweetest, dearest things I have ever come into a home," writes Mrs. M. K. Taylor, of New York City.

"When I wrote you about my ailments, I was living in Richmond, Iowa. I took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was a new woman. I cannot make pen describe my heartfelt gratitude."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the stomach, liver and bowels.

A YOUNG LADY KILLED.

Result of Careless Handling of a Pistol.

Beaufort, N. C., August 24—Miss Dora Taylor was killed today by the accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of Mrs. George Taylor, at Bogue.

George Taylor keeps a store near the place where Elijah Weeks was murdered a short time ago. During his absence Miss Taylor came into the store and Mrs. Taylor asked if she would like to see her new pistol. She was in the act of passing over the weapon to the young lady, when her finger accidentally caught against the trigger and the pistol being loaded, was discharged, the ball striking Miss Taylor, producing instant death.

The killing seems to have been entirely accidental, as Mrs. Taylor did not know the pistol was loaded, and had no intention of pulling the trigger. She is prostrated with grief, and her friends fear that her mind has become unbalanced.

Miss Dora Taylor, the victim of the accident, was eighteen years old.

A dude on shore may be annoying to some, but a swell at sea makes every body sick.

An uptown small boy puzzled a grocer yesterday by asking for "a pound of oblong tea."

It's curious that the average doctor only speaks one language, despite the fact that he is familiar with so many tongues.

Oh, the Pain of Rheumatism!

Rheumatism often causes the most intense suffering. Many have for years vainly sought relief from this disabling disease, and are to-day worse off than ever. Rheumatism is a blood disease, and Swift's Specific is the only cure, because it is the only remedy which can reach such deep-seated diseases.

A few years ago I was taken with inflammatory Rheumatism, which became so intense that I was for weeks unable to walk. I tried several prominent physicians, but none relieved me. Upon the advice of a friend I decided to try

S. S. S. Before allowing me to take it, however, my guardian, who was a chemist, analyzed the remedy, and pronounced it free of poison or mercury. I felt so much better after taking two bottles, that I continued the remedy, and in two months I was cured completely. The cure was permanent, for I have never since had a touch of Rheumatism, though many times exposed to damp and cold weather.

COLOR'D EXCURSIONS.

Greensboro Ministers Speak at Boldly Against the Evil.

Editor Telegram:

Permit us, if you please, to make an explanation through your columns to our parishioners.

We find that quite a number in our churches think that the "Union Excursion" now being advertised to go to Danville next Monday means that the several churches represented have united to run it. This is not true. The churches have no part in it. We, the pastors of the churches represented, knew nothing of the excursion until it was announced to the public.

We are heartily opposed to excursions as generally indulged in by our people. We feel that as ministers of the gospel and servants of the people, we must speak out against the evils that attend the excursion. We hear the old ories in the winter of those who spend the whole summer in merry songs. We reap the fruits of the excursion. They are prodigality, poverty, immorality and death. These follow the excursions as the night the day, whatever be the motive for running them, or the excellence of the character of the men who manage them.

As a rule the higher the reputation of those who get up the excursion, the lower the motive for which it is run and the cheaper the rates; the larger and tougher will be the crowd that go and the more awful the evils that follow. We would not go on the excursions, as we know we would not consent for our sons and daughters and wives to go on them and we can but advise our people not to patronize them.

MANUFACTURING IS GROWING.

But Agricultural Interest in the South are Much Depressed.

Special to The Telegram.

Washington, August 25—Governor Tyler, of Virginia, was in Washington for a little while Wednesday, having come in from Roanoke on his way to Culpepper. The governor has the reputation of being a good organizer in political campaigns, and has been over the state "fixing his fences," and trying to inject some life into the senatorial campaign. In spite of the claims of the Martin adherents the governor is not apparently discouraged over the outlook, but to his friends whom he met while in the city spoke hopefully concerning the prospects of his election to the United States to succeed Senator Martin. Those who know Governor Tyler have never regarded him as a man likely to be over-confident in matters affecting his own personal political future. On the other hand he is usually very reticent as to making broad claims, and is not often misled in his judgment. His knowledge leads many Virginia people to believe that, notwithstanding the rosy claims of the friends of Senator Martin, after all there may be something in the situation in the senatorial contest, which is known to the governor, which may alter all substantiate his claim that the battle has not yet been won by the latter's opponents.

While in this city the governor tried to see Mr. Frank Hume, who has just been nominated by the democrats of the Alexandria district for the house of delegates, but as the nominee was not in town, the governor was unsuccessful. Governor Tyler, however, while in the city met many personal friends here. He did not remain very long, but left during the day for Culpepper, where he had engagements in the afternoon.

Colonel James Hamilton Lewis, former representative from the state of Washington, is back to Washington from an extended trip through the southern states. He has visited different points in Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia for the purpose of making some personal observations. The colonel is a democrat of the Bryan school, and while in the national house, next to his immaculate appearance, the thing which brought him most renown was his eloquent defense of democracy. In his trip south, however, he admits that he was somewhat pruned. He says that the administration is doing more to build up a respectable republican party in the south than has been done by former administrations. The refusal of the administration to appoint negroes to important offices in the south in many instances, and not to appoint the disreputable element, has resulted in making it to be more respectable to a republican than it has been at any time since the war, says Colonel Lewis. He says this policy is doing much to revive the spirit of contention in the south along economic lines.

Colonel Lewis says that while manufacturing in the southern states he has visited is gradually growing in importance agricultural interests are much depressed. Cotton, he says, is not paying, and the failure of this crop leaves the southern farmer with but little to depend upon.

It is the opinion of friends of Frank Hume, who has recently been nominated for the house of delegates, that he may be a candidate for the house of representatives next year to succeed Colonel Rixey. Captain Willard's friends also say that he may enter the contest for

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis returned at noon today from Asheville.

W. E. Faison, of Raleigh, passed through the city last evening returning home from Reidsville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Guthrie and daughter, Miss Lily, left this morning for a visit to relatives in Mocksville.

Miss Mattie Hall, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. V. C. Lewis, on South Elm street, left at noon for her home in Goldsboro.

Misses Ida and Estelle Tomlinson, of Goldsboro, passed through the city at noon returning home from a visit to friends in High Point.

D. A. Shields, of Carthage, passed through the city yesterday afternoon en route to Gastonia to accept a position as book-keeper in the bank there.

S. L. Alderman returned at noon today from a business trip to Dunn. Mrs. Alderman, who have been visiting relatives in Raleigh while Mr. Alderman has been away, returned home with him.

Mr. J. W. Tillinghast has rented the new residence built by Mr. G. Will Armfield, on Eugene street, and will reside there and carry on his music school in the same building. It is a good location.

Editor Roseower, of the Goldsboro Headlight, accompanied by Mrs. Roseower and little daughter, passed through this morning en route to Sparta, Alleghany county, to spend a week in the mountains.

Rev. P. D. Risinger and bride arrived yesterday and are boarding at Mrs. Boone's, on West Washington street. Mr. Risinger is pastor of the Lutheran mission in this city, and was married a few weeks ago to a Miss Brown, of Morrow. We welcome these good people to our city.

The Gate City Orchestra, composed of Franz Lawson, Claude Elam, Jay Boone, Jesse Alderman and Clarence Bogart, a quintette of talented musicians, left at noon today for Burlington, where they have been engaged to play at a swell reception to be given tonight by Mr. Eugene Holt.

Lea Bros., at 536 South Elm street, have an ad in this paper that it is worth your while to peruse. They have only been in business a short while and there is not an old or shoddy piece of goods in their entire stock. The prices at which they have decided to sell their stock should bring them a big trade during the next few days.

The noon train to Raleigh today carried six coaches, five of which were packed with people. Number 36 brought in three coaches, crowded with passengers, from Asheville and these were transferred to the Raleigh train. The Southern's special rates to Asheville were taken advantage of by hundreds of people from the extreme eastern part of the state and the company has no doubt been well pleased with the experiment.

Dr. and Mrs. Burbank will leave tomorrow for Wilkesboro to spend a week or two. Dr. Burbank's business in this city has grown beyond his expectations. He has fitted glasses and corrected defective vision for a number of our most prominent citizens and in each case has given perfect satisfaction. He expects to be away only a few days and will return to this city, where, as previously announced, he has decided to locate permanently.

MORE RETAILING CASES.

Nine Warrants Served on Ben Wilkinson this Morning.

Ben Wilkinson conducts a government whiskey distillery about one and one-half miles south-west of Greensboro. For some time the city and county officers have been casting their eyes in that direction, in a casual way and this morning Deputy Sheriff Weatherly served nine separate warrants on Mr. Wilkinson charging him with selling the product of his distillery in quantities less than a gallon.

A large number of witnesses have been summoned in the cases, which will come up for a preliminary hearing before Squire Pritchett this afternoon. If the evidence is sufficient to bind Mr. Wilkinson over, the cases will probably be tried in the superior court at the present term.
